DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.
2. Claims 1-7, 9-13, 15-17, 19-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Griffin, U. S. Patent 6,216,375 in view of Bauer, U. S. Patent 5,606,834.
3. Griffin teaches a display panel 1 having horizontal tracks that accept alphanumeric characters plates 23, wherein the plate 23 maybe transparent, translucent, or opaque. Griffin teaches the plates having an upper edge and a lower edge, wherein the edges are adapted to slide within upper and lower tracks. Figures 38 and 39 show the plates 173 extending over two tracks.
4. Figures 1 and 1A show the display panel having a plurality of plates 23 mounted side-by-side and on a plurality of rows to form an overall image. The first plate 23 having a "C" depicted thereon correspond to the first panel element having textual character and the horizontal adjacent panel 23 having a "O" depicted thereon correspond to the second panel element having textual character. Griffin also teaches a third panel having a "I" depicted thereon vertically adjacent the first and second panel. The top edges of the first and second panel are engaged in track 15 and the bottom edge of first and second panel and the top edge of the third panel is engage in track 17. It is inherent that the top and bottom edges of the panels that engage the tracks or not displayed to the viewer.

5. Bauer teaches a panel for applying graphics image to a slat wall comprising a slat wall 11, a panel 10 for covering the slats of the wall, wherein each panel 10 having top and bottom track or channel 29 and 30 adapted to receive graphic or photographic image panel 40. The image panel 40 is divided into a plurality of image strips 40A-40J. The strips can then be inserted sequentially into the tracks or channels 29 and 30 to show an overall image. See figures 8-11 and column 5, line 1-45.

6. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art the time this invention was made to construct the display panel taught by Griffin using the image elements/panels position adjacent one another as taught by Bauer to permit the joining of more than two sign/image portions so that an overall image can be configures.

7. With respect to claim 2, Griffin teaches a first, second, and third panel element 23 inserted into the tracks to form a continuous message or image.
8. With respect to claims 3 and 9, Figure 1A of Griffin shows the message extend across all of the surface of the board 1 and Figure 11 of Griffin show the image panels extend across all of the slat wall 11.
9. With respect to claims 4, 11 both Griffin and Bauer show the sign/image panel element having the height of one track.
10. With respect to claim 5, 12, 19 Griffin show the sign panel element can have the height of at least two tracks. See figures 38 and 39.
11. With respect to claim 6, Griffin shows the panels have a length of less than one track.
12. With respect to claims 10, 17, Bauer teaches the message on the image panel is a graphic design or photograph.
13. With respect to claim 20, the panels taught by both Bauer and Griffin do not overlap.
14. With respect to claims 22 and 23, Griffins show the panels having textual characters.
15. With respect to claims 23 and 24, Bauer shows the panels having graphic elements.

Response to Arguments

16. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 7, and 12 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

17. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
